WHO WE ARE

ArtStream is a consortium of professional Artists who are passionate about taking arts programs into communities generally underserved by the arts.

We believe that the transformative power of the arts should be available to everyone, especially those who are challenged by disabilities or life circumstances. Our programs not only benefit the individuals involved, but also the community at large. More importantly, we have seen the power of the arts at work and are excited to spread the "magic."

It is the fervent mission of ArtStream to fill the gap in arts programming between what is currently being provided in these communities and what is needed.

GREATER WASHINGTON

ArtStream was selected as "One of the Best" community nonprofits by the 2013-2014 Catalogue for Philanthropy: Greater Washington.

Our Mission

Creating artistic opportunities for individuals in communities traditionally under-served by the arts.

A Letter from Artistic Director Patricia Woolsey

It has been another wonderful, action packed year for ArtStream. It's truly unbelievable that we completed our eighth season of Inclusive Theatre and our ninth year of presenting quality, inclusive arts programming.

This has truly been a year of growth and transition. In June, I announced that I would be stepping down as the Executive Director of ArtStream and taking on a new role as Artistic Director. I look forward to redirecting my energies to programming, my field of expertise, especially in the area of Inclusive Theatre Companies. While I won't miss the countless budget meetings and stacks of paperwork that went along with it, I am very grateful to everyone who helped to make my nine-year journey as Executive Director such a success.

Today, ArtStream is nearing the conclusion of our search for a new Executive Director to lead the way into our second decade. (Yes, our ten-year anniversary is coming up quickly!) I am so grateful to the Board of Directors, the artists, and our community of business partners, actors, and families for being so supportive of this transition. It is the next step in our evolution as an organization, and I know that exciting and innovative things are coming.

In the past year, ArtStream has reached more than 3,000 participants through 69 programs including leadership programs, business partnerships, workshops, classes, and theatrical companies, both in Greater DC and in Raleigh, North Carolina. We expanded our community reach by welcoming new collaborations with the Arc of Prince George's County, BroadFutures, and Down Syndrome Network Montgomery County (DSMNC). In response to growing demands for our programs, we offered acting classes in Largo, Maryland, and added a second social club in Arlington, Virginia.

As we close out another fiscal year, it is absolutely amazing to not only survive as a non-profit, but thrive! And we have you to thank for that. Over the years, thousands of people have been touched by the arts thanks to ArtStream. You have supported us every step of the way, believing in our mission. I am so grateful to every member of our community and am grateful to have had the honor of leading this organization for nine wonderful years. I look forward to connecting with you all in my new role as Artistic Director. ArtStream's future is very bright. Stay tuned for exciting things to come!

Inclusive Theatre Companies

Inclusive Theatre Companies feature adult actors with intellectual disabilities, learning disabilities, and Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD) showcased at their very best! Led by a director and a team of theatre professionals, the companies create original musicals based on their own ideas and improvisations. After six months of developing and rehearsing, the final production – including costumes, sets, lights, and sound – is performed for the public. Beginning in 2006 and expanding to meet demand, ArtStream now has Inclusive Companies in Arlington, Virginia; Gaithersburg and Silver Spring, Maryland; and Raleigh, North Carolina.

Inclusive Performing Arts Classes

Since 2006, ArtStream's Inclusive Performing Arts Classes have helped adult actors build their acting abilities through skills-based classes. These classes are designed for adults with intellectual disabilities, learning disabilities, and ASD. Classes are offered in Arlington and Fairfax, Virginia; Largo*, Gaithersburg, and Silver Spring, Maryland; and Raleigh, North Carolina.

Leadership Programming

SELF-ADVOCACY

Beginning in July 2011, ArtStream has held Self-Advocacy workshops designed for adults with intellectual disabilities, learning disabilities and Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). With exercises focused on body-language and role-play techniques, these one-day workshops are designed to help participants stand up for themselves.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

ArtStream offers classes and workshops in Public Speaking designed for adults with intellectual disabilities, learning disabilities, and ASD. In a fun, arts-based environment, students practice everything from small-talk with friends to speeches on Capitol Hill. This program was first offered in September 2012.

SOCIAL CLUB

ArtStream's Social Clubs empower adults with intellectual disabilities, learning disabilities, and ASD to learn about, discuss, and practice social skills in a safe, supportive environment. Originally started in June 2013, this offering has expanded to include clubs in North Bethesda, Maryland and Arlington, Virginia*.

PRIVATE LESSONS

ArtStream's experienced and highly qualified instructors bring one-on-one arts lessons to clients with and without disabilities. Private Lessons are tailored to each student's abilities and interests and have included role-play techniques, drama exercises, and even creating an original children's book!

Regional Director's Report from ArtStream NC

Dear Friends,

Greetings from beautiful Raleigh, NC! As a co-founder of ArtStream, I have spent the last five years bringing ArtStream's important mission to the Triangle with Inclusive Companies and Bedside Storytelling.

Our Raleigh Inclusive Company got into a groove this year with The Motown Re-View. Our play was performed in February 2014, and all of the ice and snow storms caused us to miss 5 very important rehearsals. For many productions, this would be a death sentence, but ArtStream actors get the job done! I am so proud to lead this troupe of hard-working performers.

And our Inclusive Company is growing! Thanks to the Bierman family and GR Motors, Raleigh Inclusive Company actors now enjoy severely reduced tuition. This has caused our number of participants to double – DOUBLE – for 2014-2015. GR Motors is owned by Mike and Gina Bierman, whose son is an ArtStream mentor. They fell in love with our mission after seeing The Motown Re-View.

Finally, it has been an absolute joy to bring our Bedside Storytelling programming to Duke University Hospital.* Through interactive stories, children in the hospital have fun and use their imaginations. Creative stimulation is vital for children in hospitals. These sessions began in November 2013 through a grant from the MeFine Foundation.

Thank you so much for your support of ArtStream NC.

Sincerely,

Sally Kinka

MARY MARTIN

Mary was an ArtStream parent and served as Director of Communications. She was instrumental to the founding of the organization. Her vision, humor, and style made her a vital part of the ArtStream team. She was an Emmy-winning producer with CBS News as well as a volunteer with Montgomery Hospice and Montgomery County Commission on People with Disabilities. Her son, RJ, has been an ArtStream actor since 2006. Mary envisioned big things for ArtStream and inspired the organization in ways that are still being discovered.
